Ford Motor Company Takes Title To Sixty Two Acre Land Tract

FIVE DEEDS WERE PLACED ON RECORD YESTERDAY WITH THE COUNTY RECORDER AT MARTINEZ

The 62 acres of land at the foot of Tenth street is now the property of the Ford Motor Company.

Title to it was taken with the filing of deeds at Martinez yesterday afternoon.

The continual discussion that has been going on for some time that the Ford Company never intended to purchase the land, is forever ended.

Five deeds went on record, the first being from the Bay Counties Land Company to the Parr Terminal Company, and conveyed 102.07 acres of land. At the same time, three deeds from the Richmond Belt Line Railway conveying 2.424 acres, 4.545 acres and 4.545 acres respectively to the Parr Terminal Company were filed. These deeds cover strips of land which were between the 102 acre tract and the water front.

Then followed the filing of the deed from the Parr Terminal Company to the Ford Motor Company conveying the 62 acre tract on which Ford will erect his new plant.

It is estimated that Ford will put up buildings and equipment that will represent an investment of over $2,000,000 and the plant when ready for operation will give employment to approximately 1,500 people.

The government dredger is now at work deepening the channel to a depth of 30 feet and the silt that is being removed is being pumped on to the land of the Ford Motor company.

It is thought this dredging work will take about six months time, and it is said it will take about a year before the Ford land will be drained to an extent that it will permit the contractors to start the work of erecting the new buildings.

Parties in a position to know say the first two buildings to be constructed will each be 400 feet in width and 800 feet in length, and in addition to this there will be an immense power house.

"HUMANE BRUTALITY"

Illinois has just abolished hanging of criminals in favor of electrocution.

The legislature has undertaken the change as a matter of "humanity."

The real brutality is not in the form of execution but in the death penalty itself.

There can be no such thing as 'humane' capital punishment.

Killing by the state is brutal, heartless and dreadful.

It violates the law of God just as truly as does the man or woman who breaks the Sixth Commandment.

In the state of Washington recently the Parole Board witnessed a hanging.

C. Burt Clausin, chairman, said, "I and the other members of the board are convinced after witnessing the execution of Arthur Winters by hanging that hanging is brutal, barbarous and out of date. Of various methods of execution investigated by the board lethal gas appears to us to be the best."

Of various methods of killing human beings all of them seem to be of the beast.

Whether a man is strangled by a rope, roasted and broiled by an electric current, gagged and choked by poison gas, drawn and quartered by four horses or decapitated by the guillotine, his execution is shocking and inexcusable.

According to press dispatches the assembled powers have placed their cards on the table, but what we want to know is—have any of 'em got an extra ace up the right sleeve?

Girls in Breslau, Germany, who have their hair bobbed must pay one mark per month as a special tax into the city treasury. And of course this is in addition to the tariff to the barber.

It is said that the Pons-Winnecke comet got within three and a half million miles of the earth on this trip and for our part we are willing to say that is near enough.

Salaries of movie stars are to be cut ten per cent, but it is not stated whether this is ten per cent of their stated salaries or ten per cent of what they actually get.

CUTEST THING BABY EVER SAID

One day my little sister and I were out in the woods playing. A tree about half blown over, she asked:

"Brother, did God make that tree grow crooked?"

"Yes," I said. "I guess so."

"Then he must have planted the seed crooked, didn't he?" she asked.

Do You Know That—

The two-piece dress of striped wash silk is a popular mode where smart sportswomen rather than simple of line and has no trimmings save plaits and buttons.

The large summer straw hat has made its annual appearance and is shown in millan, palladian, ballroom, hair and interesting combination effects. The featured trimmings are velvet ribbon bows, ribbon motifs, rhinestone pins and maline flanges.

Paris is using men's shirts to fashion charming washable frocks for summer. They are shown in white crossbar, gayly checked and solid color chemises, and their chief charm lies in their smart simplicity and perfection of tailoring.

An outstanding success in the way of knitwear is the two-color sweater blouse of knitted zephyr with melonistic airplane design.

A SMILE A SECOND

"Waiter," grumbled a customer, "I would like to know the meaning of this. Yesterday I was served with a portion of pudding twice the size of this."

"Indeed sir," replied the waiter, "Where did you sit?"

"By the window," answered the customer.

"Oh, that accounts for it," said the waiter. "We always give people that sit by the window large portions. It's an advertisement."

A FLY IN THE GLASS

An Irishman, Jerry, and a Scotchman, Mac, went into a saloon to get a glass of beer. A fly buzzed around and flew into the Irishman's glass. The fly flew into the Scotchman's glass; he also blew it out. Then he flew into the Scotchman's drink. Mac carefully picked up the fly and wrung it out.

WHEN I FORGOT

I decided to take my shoes for repair while on the way to business. I wrapped them in some paper. Placing the bundle on the table, I did something else. A moment later I picked it up and hurried off. At the shoemaker's I was hurriedly explaining to him what was to be repaired. Imagine my embarrassment when I pulled a loaf of bread out of the bag.

How To EARN MONEY at HOME.

By Sara Spence

Very often the money-making problem resolves itself simply into getting started. "If I only knew how to begin," you say. Well, the only way to begin is to begin.

If you want to make a lampshade, make it. Then take it to the Woman's Exchange, or to an art shop, or to a friend, or to a stranger. Offer it for sale. Keep on offering it until you sell it.

The interior decorator is always looking for people who can make handsome lamp shades and there is always a scarcity of them. So many people have succeeded. Yet there never is anything that is practical for me. I can't do anything very well. Please help me. I must earn a little money.

HELPLESS.

Take in a neighbor's fine washing anything except flat work. Learn the chemistry of soaps, also how to dye lingerie if it faded. Study the art of folding so that things look like new. Take them home wrapped in blue tissue, or pink, to match the lingerie. You will get extra pay for such work.

I want to type-write a book for an author. I have plenty of time at home. Where can I get such work?

Authors' agents might help you. Also write to all the authors in your immediate neighborhood. Take them samples of your work. I must be perfect, you know. Leave cards, write, call in person—until you get a chance to talk. Publishers often have such work to give out.

I write verses. Where can I get them?

POETESS.

Poetry never sells very well unless the author is very well known. All the same, a young librarian whom I know has made $50 this spring selling verses. All the magazines buy poetry "if it happens to suit them."

Grandma's Beauty Chest

Reveals Freckle Chaser

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

Blender, beware! July is the month of freckles. Hot sun and dry air bring the little brown patches to sensitive skins. The use of astringents and bleaches can prove permanently harmful to the complexion.

But here is one old-fashioned remedy which has been used since our grandmothers' day. It can be made at home and used in moderation. It will prove very helpful. You will need one part bitter almonds and one part barley flour and sufficient pure honey to form a paste. Blanch the almonds and pound to a fine powder. Be sure the consistency is uniform, and that there are no lumps. Sifting through a fine cloth and then pounding the particles which refuse to sift through is one way of being sure.

For Softening Skin

Then add the barley flour and mix into a smooth paste by adding the honey slowly. It should be the consistency of light cream.

This mixture in addition to removing the freckles, will keep your skin soft and delicate.

MRS. THAYER—A hot big is always good when there is an inflammation of the stomach or intestines. It helps equalize circulation, increases the pulse action, accelerates respiration and will prove very helpful when there is a congestion of blood in the internal organs which causes distress. The temperature should be from 92 to 100 degrees, and if you do not have a thermometer, remember that one part of boiling water to two parts of cold water will produce the correct temperature.

ELIZABETH: Very few persons are helped by unnatural laxatives. It is far better to regulate your system by diet. To counteract an overdose of laxative you should go on a diet of boiled rice and boiled milk for several days until the condition is remedied. If you are eating the correct foods this condition can be avoided.

MRS. JOHN YATES: An unpleasant breath is usually due to one or two things: decayed teeth or inadequate digestion. Attention should be given your teeth to see that they are in good condition.

Living to Live

Under medieval theology, sin and the devil were great and real. A God who was a God, a winning side—God always beat. The man who lived with relation to God, and a God who was a God, a winning side—God always beat. The man who lived with relation to God, and a God who was a God, a winning side—God always beat.

Now, as a matter of fact, there are far more health influences than disease influences, and the health influences are much greater and much more powerful than disease influences. Disease can only develop when the individual has broken himself down.

Whatever the causes of an epidemic may be, only a small portion of the population will have the disease, and these will be the ones who are broken in resistance. In every epidemic there are those who will survive and unharmed though it is.

When all viruses reside in the body, the disease, the epidemic ends, this allows the serum squanders to show how they saved the life of the community. But for them the whole population would have perished.

But epidemics always come to an end, even before they were any serious—and there were always those who were invulnerable to the epidemic influence. In all epidemics of the past a majority of the people did not develop the disease. Only those who have abused their bodies until they are rotten will fall victims of the epidemic influence, and any arrangement to have these people catch "health" instead of "disease" would only encourage their abuses.

The Smartest Thing My Dog Ever Did

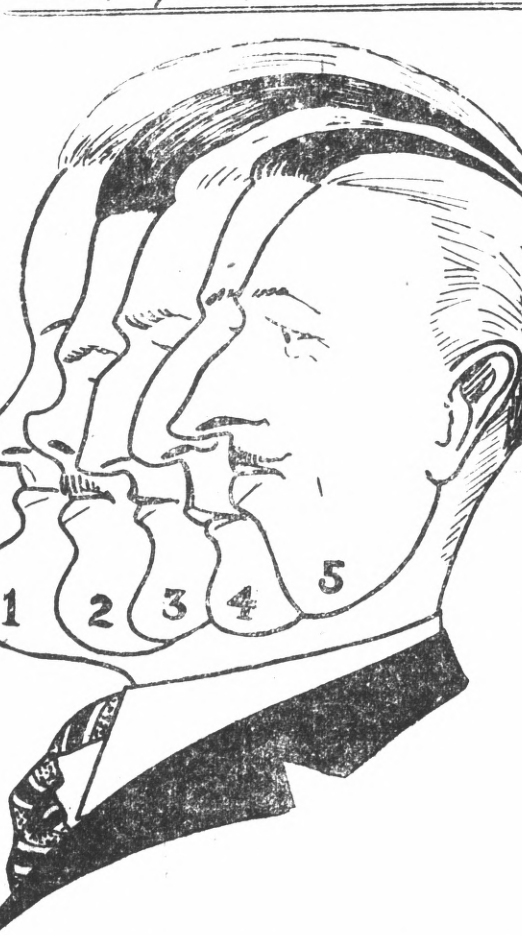

Some years ago, while residing at a beautiful country place in Mamaronock I became friendly with a pretty yellow dog, an Irish terrier. At that time I had a prayer book which had been given me by my dear mother in Ireland. I prized this treasure above all else. I spent days searching and praying for its recovery. At last I gave up hope of every finding it. To my surprise one evening I saw my friend Billy, the dog, approaching with something between his teeth, wagging his tail with joy. In a moment my beloved prayer book was in my hands. It was wet as if it had floated on the salt water. With tears of gratitude I stroked his head and thanked him. To this day it bears the marks of Billy's teeth on the cover.

What Your FACE TELLS

c. 1927- by Betty Morrison Psy.D.

Every normal individual has the same number of bones, hands, feet, fingers, toes, eyes, ears, one mouth, one chin and one circulatory system.

Each individual will live, hate, laugh, cry, fight and quarrel and yet there are no two physical structures just alike. Like the trees and flowers, each one is different. Their needs are different, their likes and dislikes and feelings are different.

Some people are influenced by beauty, culture, refinement, practice and details; others by strength, power, speed, durability and practicality; others by price, quality, ease, comfort and compliments.

Since their thoughts and feelings are different, it is necessary that they must be handled differently. To impress, convince and persuade a person we must understand him. Persons are just as different as the heads and faces in the illustration.

Each one has his or her predominating characteristics. The above features represent:

1. Courage—creative.
2. Optimistic—artistic.
3. Energetic—managerial.
4. Financial—commercial.
5. Impulsive—practical.

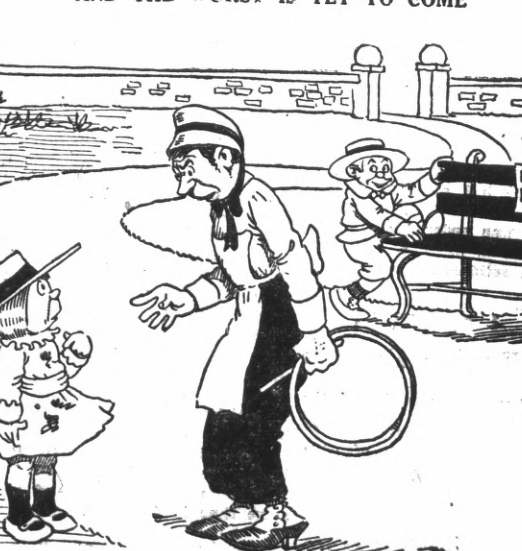

We will analyze these profiles daily. Tomorrow we will classify these profiles.

NO CHARACTER IN HISTORY OUT-RANKS SIR FRANCIS DRAKE IN THE BOLDNESS OF CONCEPTION AND THE DARING OF HIS ENTERPRISES. FOR SHEER AUDACITY HE HAS HAD FEW EQUALS. HIS OPERATIONS AGAINST SPAIN IN HIS EFFORTS TO WARD OFF THE THREATENED INVASION OF ENGLAND BY THE SPANISH ARMADA, WAS A SERIES OF BRILLIANT EXPLOITS WHICH DID MUCH TO WEAKEN THE SPANISH NAVAL MORALE, AND TO HINDER THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE ARMADA WHEN IT FINALLY MOVED AGAINST ENGLAND. HIS CAPTURE OF CAPE ST. VINCENT AND THE FORMIDABLE SPANISH WORKS AND CASTLES DEFENDING IT, WAS A FINE ACHIEVEMENT UNDER THE CONDITIONS OF THE FIGHTING AS WE SHALL SEE.

SIR FRANCIS DRAKE

By Dr. Elliot Shoring, The Noted Historian

ON MAY 5, 1587, DRAKE LANDED "EIGHT HUNDRED MUSKETT, SMALL SHOT AND PKICMENT" AND MARCHED AGAINST THE SPANISH FORT AVELERA. THE GARRISON AT ONCE ABANDONED THIS FORT FOR THE POWERFUL SAGRES CASTLE. DRAKE MOVED AGAINST IT IN A BOLD LAND OPERATION. THE CASTLE WAS DEFENDED BY A GREAT WALL, THIRTY FEET HIGH BY TEN FEET WIDE AND EQUIPPED WITH HEAVY ORDNANCE. DRAKE IN PERSON LED THE ASSAULT UPON THE OUTER GATE, HAVING NO EQUIPMENT FOR BATTERING IT DOWN HE COULD ONLY ATTEMPT TO SET FIRE TO IT. FOR TWO HOURS THE STRUGGLE RAGED. MANY OF THE ENGLISH WERE KILLED AND WOUNDED, BUT THE GATES STILL HELD. FINALLY THE SPANISH COMMANDER FLAG MORTALLY WOUNDED. IT WAS APPARENT THE CASTLE MUST SOON FALL. PRESENTLY THE DEFENDERS RAN UP A FLAG OF TRUCE AND THE GARRISON SURRENDERED. THE REMAINING CASTLES YIELDED WITHOUT A BLOW AND DRAKE'S OBJECTIVE—THE TAKING OF CAPE ST. VINCENT—WAS ACCOMPLISHED.

COOLIDGE INVITED TO ADDRESS CONFERENCE (By Universal Service)
RICHMOND, S. D., July 11.—President Coolidge was today invited by H. H. Frost of New York to address the Rapid Industrial conference at New York on September

CAL. COOLIDGE AND JIM REED ARE DISCUSSED

By JOHN T. LAMBERT
(By Universal Service)
RAPID CITY, S. D., July 11.—President Coolidge and Senator James A. Reed of Missouri are the outstanding men of strength in their respective political parties in the west, according to declarations made at the executive offices today by a prominent group of North Dakotans.

The Dakota delegation came in an automobile cavalcade from Jamestown, were received by President Coolidge and later made their political observations through Judge R. C. McFarland and M. M. Cone, an industrious farmer who plants 15,000 acres.

They agreed that if Senator Reed engages in an active campaign he can easily win the North Dakota and other western delegations from Governor Smith or any other democratic contestant.

"There is much of the Roosevelt in Jim Reed," said Judge McFarland, "and the west like him because he is a strong man. He made a terrific fight against the League of Nations that will always be remembered by the west. His opposition to the child labor amendment and the manner in which he conducted the Ford-Sapiro case, demonstrating his knowledge of western agricultural needs, always will stand to his credit."

"Governor Smith could not be successful in the west. In addition to his many other drawbacks, the west could not believe that he appreciates their problems." Judge McFarland and Mr. Cone disagreed as to whether Governor Lowden or ice-President Dawes would make the stronger opposition candidate but they did agree that neither could possibly carry the west over President Coolidge. "Sentiment on the McNary-Hauge bill in North Dakota is about fifty-fifty," said Mr. Cone, "but there is no personal bitterness against the President for having vetoed the bill."

"The west looks upon the President as a steady, sane man," said Judge McFarland. "His sensible economy has helped the agricultural problem more than anything else and he can be relied upon not to raise taxes by extravagant expenditures, such as for a vast navy that this country does not need."

Scarborough To Have Funeral At Old Home

Last rites for Lee P. Scarborough, 26, Richmond fireman, who passed away Sunday morning at Weimar sanitarium, will be held tomorrow afternoon at Fowler, California, his old home. Interment will be in that city.

Scarborough was a native of Albertville, Alabama, and had been a member of the Richmond fire department since April 28, 1924. He was the husband of Mrs. Mabel Scarborough, the father of William and Lowell Scarborough of Richmond; son of W. Scarborough of Fowler, and the late Mrs. Mattie Scarborough; brother of Pierce, Clayton, and Lonny Scarborough; Mrs. J. Chambers and Mrs. R. Crow, all of Fowler.

Scarborough was seriously burned in a gasoline explosion at a fire on the Richmond waterfront on September 6, 1924. He remained with the fire department until January, 1926, when he obtained a sick leave to go to Weimar. His family declared that he never recovered from the burns received three years ago.

An unsuccessful fight before the State Industrial Accident commission was waged in 1925 by Scarborough, who contended that the burns caused his total disability to continue his duties.

SOAKED SACKS USED TO STOP FLAME SPREAD

(By Universal Service)

SANTA ROSA, July 11.—Guany sacks, soaked in wine, were used by fire fighters today in their final battle with a terrific blaze that swept over the farm of John I. Alton, six miles north of here, destroying 30,000 gallons of wine, the winery building, residence and outbuildings.

The loss of the wine alone is estimated at $20,000 and the total loss including the family home and outbuilding, $75,000.

The blaze, of unknown origin, began at 10 o'clock, spreading to the water tanks, toppling them to earth and cutting off the water supply.

It then licked its way toward the winery, tongues of flames causing huge vats of wine to swell and finally burst apart. A river of sparkling red and white wine flowed beneath the feet of the fire fighters.

One man's coat caught fire and he leaped into a pool of wine to save himself. Many dipped their hats and handkerchiefs into the liquid and bathed their faces with the bubbling vintage, assuaging parched lips as they sprang afresh to the fight.

FRESNO BEAUTY COMA PERIOD IS NOW 100 DAYS

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—In a secluded bungalow in a quiet, residential suburb, Mrs. Clara Drummond, 21-year-old Fresno "sleeping beauty" today entered her 100th day of coma. William J. Peacock, chiropractor in charge of her case, issued a statement saying she is "steadily improving."

Professional interest in her case has been revived by the death yesterday of Mrs. Mary E. Lorenz in her 102nd day of coma. Both Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. Lorenz entered into conditions of suspended animation after being overcome by gas.

Despite the declaration of Dr. Norman F. Sprague, physician who attended Mrs. Lorenz, that there is practically no hope in such cases unless blood transfusion is resorted to at the beginning, Dr. Peacock is optimistic concerning Mrs. Drummond.

Dr. Sprague stated that coma in such cases is caused by destruction of blood and brain cells through introduction of carbon monoxide into the blood system.

Dr. Peacock asserts that the Fresno "sleeping beauty" is responding to spinal adjustments and natural feeding, can now feel pain and shows marked improvement in circulation and digestion.

"Now that her system is beginning to be stronger, we can begin to attack the apparent mental slumber," Dr. Peacock said today. "Nothing could be slower than recovery from this disease. Our first task is to build up Mrs. Drummond's body."

The melodies of Mrs. Lorenz and Mrs. Drummond differ, according to Dr. Victor Parkin, psychiatrist. According to Dr. Parkin, Mrs. Drummond suffers from profound hysteria and has reverted to her "child mind," through a combination of poisoning, shock and weakened physical condition. When her physical condition is improved, suggestion should cure her, he said.

Sharkey Taking Blows For Fight With "Jack"

By WARREN BROWN

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, July 11.—Some of the carefully studied calm, and he attitude of tolerance which characterized the Sunday workout of Jack Sharkey, vanished in a hurry this afternoon, on at least two occasions. The first occurred in the second round of a brisk performance with Johnny Urban, the same being the mysterious stranger, who may or may not be moments of work with Marco Polo.

Sharkey, following his Sunday workout, indicated in a few thousand well chosen words, that it was his object to get used to punches, showing his way. Urban, an aggressive young man, became unyieldingly energetic, and was in a fair way towards showing up the principal actor when, of a sudden, a Lithuanian left hook found a resting place on Urban's chin and the ambitious youth was the first of the Sharkey sparring partner troupe to discover the canvas in the Madison Square Garden gymnasium.

Polo, aroused the Sharkey fire by unleashing a backhand, and for the next few seconds Marco was the recipient of Sundry lefts and rights.

Against his other partners, Leo Gates, and Rocky Stone, Sharkey was over the obliging lad, who was perfectly willing to hit or be hit, just as long as the necessary amount of exertion known as a workout was being recorded.

There may be some strategy in the theory that one has to be punched around a certain amount of the time to make a workout impressive. But it will be well for Sharkey if he has a care in those early rounds of his brawl with Jack Dempsey, and lets him take none of the same liberties that these sparring partners of yesterday took, and, with the exceptions noted, escaped unscathed and unchallenged. After the early rounds, of course, there will be more things than Sharkey's speed, his punch, and his ability to burden Dempsey, and, whether this strikes a sympathetic note or not, it will be a burden.

There was a general improvement in Sharkey's work over his Sunday performance, and there is no question of the excellence of his condition, even now.

A stranger in the gymnasium, looking over Sharkey for the first time, would carry away the impression that he is easily hit, and anyone who is easily hit has no great business bothering around with Dempsey. But here one runs up against two propositions, the one that Sharkey in the gymnasium and Sharkey in the ring are not one and the same, and the other is that the Dempsey of the present era finds difficulty in "tagging" any moving object.

His problem with Gene Tunney, a year ago was not nearly as much lack of punch, as lack of a place to put it.

Enforcement Of Dry Act Topic At Today's Meet

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11. War plans of the new dry enforcement strategy in its campaigns against liquor smuggling, alcohol adulteration and other law violations will be laid at nation-wide conferences which begin here today.

Twenty-two representatives of the Department of justice, civil service, national fire, coast guard and bureau of customs are taking part in the discussion for the alcohol prohibition and alcoholism industries and the retail druggists will address the sessions and plan closer cooperation with the government in its efforts to make prohibition effective.

"The boss like" enforcement was emphasized upon the administrators by Seymour Lowman, acting assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of enforcement, who presided. Both Lowman and Prohibition Commissioner James M. Dorian are opposing spectacular methods.

Martinez Auto Dealer Robbed

he carried and his watch but the latter was returned by one of the landlords with the remark, "You can have this. We've got enough watches now." Ordering Benson to drive on, the landlords hurried into their own car parked at the entrance to the old Barry Hill garage and sped away in the direction of Oakland.

Benson rushed to Martinez and notified the Sheriff's office immediately. Deputy O. A. Kapell sent word of the hold up to the police, but the landlords evidently took a side road somewhere in the vicinity of San Pablo and made their get away.

Benson reported the men as being about average height, weighing about 180 pounds each and said that they would pass as brothers. Both were well dressed and neither was masked.

The dead: W. C. Weaver, pilot; A. T. Herley, photographer; F. H. Wong, government surveyor.

The men were engaged in making a photographic survey of Manitoba.

Farmers who witnessed the tragedy said that the bodies of three men came hurtling through the air and that the plane did a nose dive following their careening bodies.

Altar Boy Made Living Torch By Flare Of Candle

ANTIOCH, July 11.—Converted into a flaming torch when the filmy material and lace collar of his surplice caught fire during the progress of the early morning mass in the Catholic church here Sunday morning, Eugene Carriere, altar boy, was saved from burns which might have caused death by the quick action of worshippers who vaulted the altar rail and wrapped the lad in a rug which they seized from the floor.

Young Carriere was attending the priest officiating at the mass when a sudden gust of air blew the flames of the candle which he was carrying into contact with the lace collar of the surplice. The frightened boy attempted to draw the burning garment over his head out worshippers in the front row of pews jumped over the railing and smothering the flames prevented more painful burns.

Aside from singed hair and eyebrows the lad was only slightly injured although he is still shaking from his experience.

some currency to the Anglo-California Trust Company, where she exchanged the checks for currency. She was then to go to the Crocker First National Bank to deposit the money.

As she left the first bank, she said, she met Ralph Boston, whom she described as an "old friend of the family." As he met her, she said, he pulled up the sleeve of her dress and she felt a sharp sensation, as though pricked by a pin.

Boston, she said, then forced her into an automobile, parked at the curb and pressed a revolver against her side until she became drowsy and remembered little more until she awoke, bound and gagged, two hours later.

STILL FIGHTING FOR PERMIT FOR BIG BAY SPAN

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The application made by San Francisco for a permit to construct a bridge across the bay from Raccoon Hill to Alameda is now being considered by the general board of the navy. It was learned at the Navy Department today.

A report by the general board to Secretary Wilbur will be made on Wednesday of this week, it was stated. Secretary Wilbur will review the findings of the board and then transmit the report to the War Department in whose jurisdiction such matters as bridge permits lie.

The whole question was referred to the general board by Secretary Wilbur after the receipt of a communication from Secretary of War Davis in which the latter recommended that the attitude of the navy with reference to the proposed bridge plan be altered.

Secretary Davis strongly urged in his letter to Secretary Wilbur that the navy's opposition to the building of a bridge north of Hunter's Point should be modified. He pointed out that the plan proposed by San Francisco would not, in his opinion, justify the navy in adhering to the ruling which put a ban on any construction in the upper bay.

Secretary Davis referred the Davis letter to the general board without recommendation or comment, and it will be considered by the board in connection with all other material and testimony concerning the bridge.

Until the general board has acted upon the matter and submitted its report, Secretary Wilbur declined to make public the contents of Secretary Davis' letter. Secretary Davis is on his way to Europe, but will return within a month.

TRAGEDY ENDS ROMANCE THAT STARTS IN CAR

SAN BERNARDINO, July 11.—C. L. Crane, 23, is dead, and his bride of a few days is in a state of collapse at the General Hospital here, the tragic termination of a so-called honeymoon.

A pistol shot in the wastes of the Mojave desert ended a romance begun in the cornfields of Iowa. The shot is said to have been fired by C. L. Caldwell, Santa Fe railroad special agent, who is at liberty on his own recognizance.

Yesterday, according to Caldwell, he found his honeymooners and eight young men in a boxcar bound for Los Angeles. At El Cerrito, in the desert, he shut them into a caboose on charges of violating the railroad fare law.

At Pisgah the captives called for water. As Caldwell opened the door to hand in a bucket, Crane moved his hand in his pocket, as if grasping a gun, and cried "don't move or I'll plug you," the officer said.

Caldwell reached for his own gun and a struggle followed, terminated by a pistol shot. Crane died here today. His threat, it was revealed, was a bluff. He had no weapon.

Mrs. Elsie Block and her children have left their home at Ocean View and Colusa streets to visit for two weeks in Eureka.

Bogus German Prince Serves Seven Months

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, July 11.—Yung Hsiao Domela, the poor farmer lad whose trial at Cologne for posing as Prince Wilhelm of Prussia and getting away with considerable money thereby, ended with a sentence of seven months in jail, today sadly charmed that life at the Heidelberg University is not what it is cracked up to be.

"Heidelberg is a frightful disappointment," he said.

"I went there expecting to find a serious-minded group of young men. Instead every night everybody was drunkenly drunk and carried on their intoxication in the rudest fashion."

"My own purse was actually stolen when these aristocratic students gave me a farewell dinner."

Domela insists that he did not want to impersonate the Hohenzollern prince, but the resemblance was so strong that people persisted in calling him the prince. After a time he grew fond of the title, he admits.

MANY CHANGES WILL BE MADE IN OLD K.P. HALL

The lodge hall on the second floor of Pythian castle, recently acquired by the local Carpenters Union, No. 642, is being painted, according to an announcement last night when the carpenters held their first meeting in the hall. Plans for alterations on the first floor were also discussed.

These will include the incorporation of a recreation hall, a reading room, a kitchen and a meeting room. The outside of the building will be repaired and painted, and an entrance will be cut through the center of the front of the building.

These improvements are due, it was said, to the combined efforts of every carpenter in the union and to the cooperation of the auxiliary. Although the responsibility rests with the carpenters they have the support of the Building Trades Council of Contra Costa county and the Central Labor Council of Richmond. It is planned to have most of the labor organizations of the city meet in the hall.

The name of the hall will be determined at a meeting of the carpenters next Monday night.
